

Smart Tips 1 -- How to return used fluorescent lamps?

(Smart Tips)

If you want to recycle spent lamps and tubes please note that the “Fluorescent Lamp Recycling Programme” only recovers those that contain mercury.

Those not containing mercury, such as incandescent light bulbs and halogen lamps, commonly known as tungsten light bulbs, are not covered by the programme.

Do not put broken light bulbs and tubes directly into collection boxes and bins. Remember to put them inside the packaging before you put them into the collection containers or hand them over to staff at collection points.
